GAIL Porter has proved how little changes can make a big difference – by getting her eyebrows tattooed.

The presenter, who suffers from alopecia, said happily: "I'm so chuffed with my new brows, they've left me feeling fabulous, confident and flirty!"

Mum to 14-year-old Honey, the star revealed it was her daughter who gave her the nudge she needed to ditch the eyebrow pencils.

Gail, 45, explained: "Honey told me to just stop drawing them on! I could never really get them to look right.

"Recently my eyelashes grew back which has been amazing, getting them back got me thinking that maybe I'd like to have my brows back too."

Gail entrusted the help of Karen Betts, the 'Queen of Microblading' to get her new look.

She added: "I have to admit, I was nervous to have a Microblading Treatment after so long without brows but Karen worked with me to create a natural look in a beautiful light colour."

Gail recently opened up to The Sun about her dramatic breast reduction from a 28JJ to a 28C.
